The mission of the Risk Management team is to create a safe learning environment in every school.

To this end, the team has chosen the nonviolent crisis prevention training offered by The Crisis Prevention Institute as an educational tool for school staff. The training discusses how conflicts occur and what can be done to deescalate them before they erupt into serious incidents. The training also provides guidelines of how to respond if situations do escalate. Attending the course should increase staff confidence and improve their ability to decrease disruptions, both of which promote safety in schools.
